RELATIONSHIPS/MONEY: NEW!

The M-Word

Do you ever wish you could get your spouse to understand and appreciate how you want to handle money? Want to stop feeling embarrassed by your instinctive money habits or annoyed by your spouse's spending or saving? Guess what? All of the stress that comes with money and our relationships has nothing to do with money!

This session has nothing to do with budgeting or getting out of debt. But it has everything to do with helping relationships thrive in love and money!

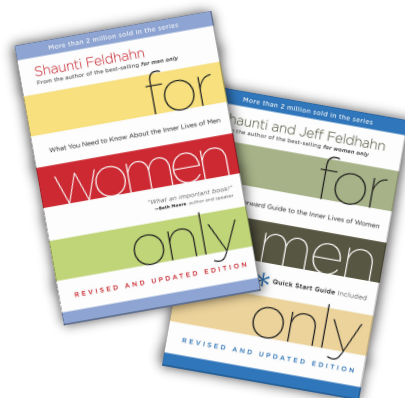

MARRIAGE/RELATIONSHIPS:

Light Bulb Moments: Taking Marriages From Good To Great

Whether you've been married for 50 years or 5 months, your spouse has deep feelings, needs, concerns and hopes that you might not know are there! And a few little "aha moments" and simple actions can make a big difference!

Ladies, come learn about the inner life of your man—all those things he wishes you knew but may not know how to explain. And guys, you'll be so encouraged to see that you can understand your wife and make her happy!

The Elephants in the Room: Sex, Money and Other Essential Topics

The topics that are hardest to talk about are often those where a little new knowledge can make the biggest difference. Many marriages and relationships suffer (or simply don't thrive) due to something as tragically simple as a lack of understanding about what is going on in the heart and mind of their partner—especially when it comes to sex, money, porn, tricky family relationships, or a host of other "elephant in the room" topics.

FROM THE "FIND WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR" SERIES:

Find Rest—Even in a Busy Life

Every woman has been there: Busyness. Stress. Anxiety. Exhaustion. Some days it feels like we're managing everything well; others, it feels like everything is managing us. But that is NOT the life Jesus wants for us! People often tell us to "slow way down" and "take time off"—which is a great solution for a short time but not realistic for a lifetime. Jesus promises we can find rest—even in the middle of a very busy life!

Find Balance

Is there a biblical answer for life balance as a busy modern woman? Yes! And it will be wonderfully unique and different for every wonderfully unique woman. Based on her book and Bible study The Life Ready Woman, and rich with stories and scriptural foundation, Shaunti helps each of us discover the individual blueprint that God has provided, to become the woman we are called and created to be.

PARENTING:

Getting Inside the Head of Your Kid

Ever heard "You're just not listening!" after you've been listening for ten minutes? For every confused parent, there's a teen or tween longing to be understood. Parents will leave this talk—based on interviews and surveys with more than 3,000 teens and tweens for For Parents Only—with a much greater understanding of what is going on in there, and more confidence in supporting and relating to this young person you love so much.

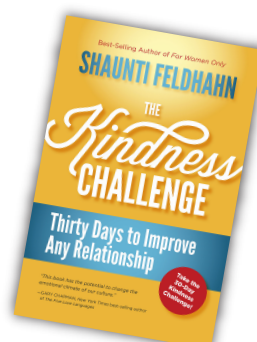

KINDNESS:

Kindness Changes Everything

Did you know that there is ONE thing holding most of us back from the truly abundant life and relationships we are longing for? We are not nearly as kind as we think we are! Even very loving, giving, caring people have daily habits of unkindness that we don't even recognize, and which are sabotaging us without ever realizing it.

Learn about the three simple actions that change everything—and how the superpower of kindness will not only transform any relationship, but transform YOU. This is a time in our culture when kindness has never been more needed.
